

The excavations of Le Yaudet, Ploulec'h, Côtes- d'Armor

Volume 2 The site: from prehistory to the fall of the Gallic Empire

INTRODUCTION

The location and topography of the site: a summary

The excavation programme

The presentation of the archaeological results

Acknowledgements

1 THE PREHISTORIC OCCUPATION

The stratified evidence

The Upper Plateau

Trench 3

Trench 38

Trench 13

The question of the early rampart

The Central Valley and the Lower Plateau

Trench 36

The material culture

Lithic artefacts

The flints by Ian Brooks

Stone axes by Emma Harrison

Pottery by Lisa Brown

The subsistence economy

Animal bones by Julie Hamilton

Charred plant remains by Gill Campbell

2 THE LATE IRON AGE □ EARLIEST ROMAN OCCUPATION

The defences

Introduction

Terminology

Site topography and visible remains

The excavation programme 1991–2002

The defences: an overview

The cross-ridge rampart

The topography

Trenches 6 and 9

Rampart 1

Rampart 2

Rampart 3

The tail of the rampart in trench 6

Trenches 1/3, 4 and 17

The question of rampart 1

Rampart 2

Rampart 3

The tail of the rampart in trenches 1/3

Trench 41

The question of rampart 1

Rampart 2

Trenches 10 and 16

The Late Iron Age rampart

The Roman entrance passage

Trenches 27, 34 and part of trench 3

Trenches 23, 24, 25, 30 and 32

Trench 18E

Trenches 33, 37, 38, 39 and 40

Natural land form before rampart construction

The question of Iron Age defences west of Les Rochers de

Beaumanoir

The question of the Late Iron Age Land Gate

The cross-ridge rampart: summary of development

The pre-rampart topography

The question of the early rampart

Late Iron Age rampart 1

Late Iron Age rampart 2

Late Iron Age rampart 3

The contour rampart

The topography

The north-east corner: trenches 2, 5, 7 and 8

Trench 2

Trench 5

Trench 7

Trench 8

The north side: trench 35

The west side: trenches 31, 26 and 13

Trench 31

Trench 26

Trench 13

The contour rampart: summary of development

The pre-rampart topography

The pre-rampart occupation

Late Iron Age rampart 1

Late Iron Age rampart 2

The occupation

The Upper Plateau

The topography

The development of the excavation programme 1991–2002

The nature of the archaeological deposits

Summary of the defences

The area immediately behind the rampart

The construction of rampart 1

The initial Late Iron Age occupation horizon

The construction of ramparts 2 and 3

The later Late Iron Age occupation horizon

The area west of Les Rochers de Beaumanoir

The Upper Plateau north-west of the stratified zone

The Central Valley and the Lower Plateau

Topography and stratigraphy

The development of the excavation programme 1991–2002

The occupation in the Central Valley

The occupation on the Lower Plateau

Trenches 2, 5, 7 and 8

Trenches 28, 29, 31, 35 and 36

The material culture

Iron Age coins by Philip de Jersey

Small finds by Emma Harrison

Copper alloy objects

Iron objects

Shale objects

Glass objects

Fired clay and ceramic objects

Pottery

Roman amphorae: Late Iron Age to mid-first century AD by

David Williams

The coarse wares of the Late Iron Age by Lisa Brown

The subsistence economy

Marine shell remains by Greg Campbell

Animal bones by Julie Hamilton

Human bones

3 ROMAN: THE EARLY EMPIRE

The structural evidence

Introduction

The new entrance passage through the cross-ridge rampart

Structures at the back of the cross-ridge rampart

Trenches 1/3, 27 and 34

Trench 6

Trench 41

Structures elsewhere on the headland

The material culture

Small finds by Emma Harrison

Copper alloy objects

Iron objects

Shale objects

Glass objects

Vessel glass

Ceramic objects

Stone objects

Pottery

Roman amphorae: mid-first century BC to AD 260 by David

Williams

Terra Sigillata by G.B. Dannell

The coarse wares by Emma Harrison

The subsistence economy

Marine shell remains by Greg Campbell

4 ROMAN: THE GALLIC EMPIRE AND ITS AFTERMATH

The defences

Introduction

The nature of the Roman defensive wall

The Roman Sea Gate and the adjacent Roman wall

The excavation of the Sea Gate in 1952–4 by Leon Fleuriot

The Roman Sea Gate as exposed in the excavations of 1952–4

The main wall

The gate structure

The form of the gate

The wall and stratigraphy in trench 2

The wall and stratigraphy in trench 5

The Roman east wall

The standing wall

The wall and stratigraphy in trench 7

The Roman terraced road to the harbour

The line of the Roman wall on the north and west sides of the promontory

The Roman land defences

The Roman Land Gate West and its associated stratigraphy:

trenches 33, 37, 38, 39 and 40

The third century AD terracing

The late Roman gate and its approaches

The blocked entrance and the line of the Roman wall across the neck of the promontory

The occupation

The orthogonal plan

The structures on the Upper Plateau

Trench 41

Trench 11

Trench 12

Trench 14

The structures in the Central Valley

Trench 21

Trench 22

The structures on the Lower Plateau

Trench 28

Trench 29

Trench 36

Trench 31

Trench 35

The material culture

The coins by Dr. C.E. King

Small finds by Emma Harrison

Copper alloy objects

Iron objects

Lead objects

Bone objects

Vessel and window glass

Ceramic objects

Stone objects

Brick and tile by Emma Harrison

Pottery

Coarse wares by Emma Harrison

The subsistence economy

Marine invertebrate remains by Greg Campbell

Animal bones by Julie Hamilton

Charred plant remains by Gill Campbell

Human bones

DISCUSSION

The prehistoric occupation

The Late Iron Age and earliest Roman occupation (c.150–10 BC)

The Early Empire: c.10 BC–AD 260

The Gallic Empire and after: AD 260–300

APPENDICES

Introduction

Appendix A: Stratigraphy

Introduction

The Matrices

Appendix B: Small finds

- B1: Listings of all small finds by material or type by Ian Brooks and Emma Harrison
- B2: Metallographic investigations by Peter Northover and Brian Gilmour

Appendix C: Pottery

Introduction

- C1: Catalogue of amphorae by David Williams
- C2: Catalogue of Terra Sigillata by Geoffrey Dannell
- C3: Prehistoric, Late Iron Age and Roman fabric series by Lisa
Brown and Emma Harrison
- C4: Petrological reports by David Williams
- C5: Prehistoric, Late Iron Age and Roman vessel forms by Lisa
Brown and Emma Harrison
- C6: Quantification of Roman pottery forms by Emma Harrison
- C7: Context assemblage summaries by Lisa Brown and Emma Harrison

Appendix D: Plant and animal remains

D1: Charred plant remains by Gill Campbell

D2: Animal bones by Julie Hamilton

D3: Marine invertebrates by Greg Campbell